

Biscayne Beach penthouse design party: PHOTOS

Celeb interior designer Thom Filicia gives a sneak peak of his "sandcastles in the sky"

September 05, 2013 10:00AM

By Emily Schmall

Biscayne Beach, a luxury condo planned for Miami's Edgewater, recently opened sales.

Fifty special guests were treated to a private sit-down dinner at the Gary Nader Fine Art gallery in Wynwood where celebrity interior designer Thom Filicia and hosts Eastview Development, GTIS Partners and Cervera Real Estate unveiled the Biscayne Beach penthouse collection, dubbed "Sandcastles in the Sky." Filicia, a co-star on the hit-show "Queer Eye for the Straight Guy," is making his condo design debut as Biscayne Beach's exclusive design partner. The 51-story luxury high-rise condo will boast Miami's first bayfront beach club, with 335 linear feet of land on Biscayne Bay, offering residents white sand, swimming piers, jet skis and paddle boards.